DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-5, 7 and 9-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Berg-johansen, US patent application 2003/0214242 A1.

3. Berg-johansen discloses a light emitting display comprising a panel having a display area that may be lit or unlit [0008] and comprising a sensor 150 [0033] for sensing ambient light levels. The display may be electroluminescent and the sensor is placed behind the display ([0027]. The display is readable under a variety of lighting conditions [0002]. The display includes controller 120 [0033] which adjusts the display according to a mathematical function [0035]. A user may set a desired contrast level by adjusting manual brightness control input 190. The methods of using the system are described starting with paragraph [0058].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Berg-johansen.
6. Berg-johansen does not specifically describe the display as being arranged to ignore short-term drops in measured light levels, however this is old and well known in the art. The examiner takes official notice of car headlights which turn on automatically in response to a sensor. Such headlights ignore short-term drops in ambient light levels. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to prevent the display of Berg-johansen from adjusting to short-term light level changes so as to provide a steady illumination.
7. Berg-johansen also does not specify that the sensor is mounted in the bounds of the display in the same plane, however this is well known in the art. The examiner takes official notice of illuminated digital clocks that have light sensors in an unlit area of the display panel. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to place the ambient light sensor in the place of the display panel so as to provide an accurate measurement of the ambient light.
